

THIS IS NOT PROGRESS

"Give athletics back to the boys."

American College Athletics, 1929

Gabrielle Ludwig

6'8" male, led Mission College women's basketball team to national championship, led the league in rebounds

Fallon Fox

Ended his female opponent's MMA career when he shattered her eye socket, prompting her to declare, "I've never felt so overpowered in my life."

Lana Lawless

Claimed it was "the wind" that made him win the Women's World Long Drive Contest in 2010

Chloe Anderson

Took one of the fewer than 5000 spots on a women's NCAA Division III volleyball team by signing on at UC Santa Cruz

Nattaphon Wanyat

Some of Alaska's finest high school girls track athletes had to watch the state championship race from the sidelines after he edged them out of their places in it.

Andraya Yearwood

As a high school freshman, he won the state championship in two girls' track events. He finished his first high school race less than one second slower than the all-time women's collegiate record holder.

Amelia Galpin

Women's Running Magazine decided the best person to represent the ideal woman for their body edition was, in fact, a male.

Aron Taylor

Won the first place prize in his age division of the Jacksonville women's marathon. It was his first race ever.

Alessia Almeri

Though he never achieved much success on men's volleyball teams, he's thriving on Italy's professional women's team.

Hannah Mouncey

He was a dominant handball player on the Australian men's national team. Now he's got his sights set on the women's world championship.

Laurel Hubbard

He won 1st place at the Australian International Women's Weightlifting Competition. His winning weight? 591 pounds.

Tia Thompson

A skilled athlete, he competed with the men's division of USAV until getting the green light to join the women's squad. He hopes to play with the women in the 2020 Olympics..

Jamie Neal

He's a writer for Pink News who uses his platform to host fundraisers. People donate every time he hits a home run against the women in the women's softball league he infiltrated..

Chris Bruce

This former male bodybuilder decided to continue competing after transition- but now he competes in women's divisions. Seems fair.

Savannah Burton

A former member of the Canadian men's dodgeball team, he competed on the women's national team at the World Dodgeball Championship in 2015.

June Gloom

At 6'7" and 270 pounds, June is just one of several men who push women around in women's roller derby leagues around the US.

Rachel McKinnon

This male cyclist is a mainstream trans activist who regularly competes in women's cycling competitions.

Chloe Jonsson

He sued CrossFit for $2.5 million claiming they discriminated against him by failing to allow him to compete against women.

Jillian Bearden

He is the first male to ride in the women's pro U.S. peloton. He also cleaned up, taking 1st place in the women's division at El Tour de Tucson

Pat Cordova-Goff

Born male, he took one of the coveted 15 spots on the girl's varsity softball teams at his high school in California.

#SexNotGender

#AnatomyDiscriminates

#WomanMeansSomething

www.HandsAcrossTheAisleWomen.com