

Human Rights Council

Fortieth session

Agenda item 3

Promotion and protection of all human rights, civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights, including the right to development

South Africa

40/... Elimination of discrimination against women and girls in sport

The Human Rights Council,

Guided by the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations,

Reaffirming the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and recalling the International Convention on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, and all other relevant international human rights instruments,

Recalling Human Rights Council resolutions 32/4, 33/9, 34/19 and all relevant resolutions on the elimination of racial discrimination and discrimination against women and girls adopted by the Human Rights Council, the General Assembly, the Security Council and other United Nations agencies and bodies,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 70/1 of 27 September 2015, entitled “Transforming our world: the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development”, and welcoming the Sustainable Development Goals, including, inter alia, those pertaining to reducing inequality based on race and gender, [Translation: transgender identity. Note: this is also proof of how the term “gender” is a Trojan horse for the transgender agenda.]

[FAMILY WATCH COMMENT: This is very dangerous indeed! By listing all of these documents, including agenda 2030, it intends to ensure that they all are interpreted to encompass transgender rights. Any government who supports this resolution is basically saying they understand all of these listed documents to support transgender rights in general under the deceptive banner of anti-discrimination or anti-racism.]

Recognising that many women and girls face multiple and intersecting forms of stigma and discrimination in sport and are still subjected to discriminatory laws and practices based on their race and gender, [Translation: transgender identity]

Recognising the ruling of the Court of Arbitration for Sports that a range of natural physical and biological traits, as well as social and economic factors are associated with performance in sports, and that seeking to regulate only women and girls with a specific set of differences of sexual development, androgen sensitivity and natural testosterone levels [Translation: men and boys who are attempting to become women and girls and naturally have penises, testes, and much higher testosterone levels than females] represents a targeted and non-objective approach in contravention of non-discrimination standards,

1. Condemns regulations and practices of international and national sporting associations and bodies that set eligibility criteria which, inter alia, require women athletes [Translation: male athletes who claim to be female athletes] with specific differences in sexual development, [Translation: men with penises and testes] androgen sensitivity and natural levels of testosterone [Translation: testosterone levels as much as three times higher than true women because they are really men] to medically reduce their blood testosterone levels, as contravening international human rights norms and standards [What human rights “norms” and “standards”??? This is pure fiction], including the right to equality and non-discrimination, the right to the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health, the right to sexual and reproductive health, the right to employment, the right to physical and bodily integrity and the right to freedom from cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment and harmful practices; [Translation: a “right” for males to compete as women and girls without moderating their male physical advantages.]

[FAMILY WATCH COMMENT: This resolution is seeking to redefine all these concepts—from discrimination to SRH to employment to freedom to inhumane treatment, etc., to mean if you deny that men are women if they claim to be such, you are violating all of these specified “rights.”]

2. Recognises that sports regulations and practices that seek to racially regulate women and girls [Translation: require men to lower their testosterone levels in order to compete as women] and to exclude such women and girls [Translation: men and boys] from competing as women based on their natural physical and biological traits [Translation: without being required to alter their male-related physical advantages] do not meet the requirement of proportionality; reinforce negative gender stereotypes, sexist speech, stigma, and discrimination; and give rise to gross infringements of the dignity, privacy, and physical and bodily integrity of these women and girls [Translation: men and boys who claim to be women and girls];
3. Calls upon international and national sporting associations and bodies [An attack on the IAAF decision/policy requiring men to lower their testosterone levels if they want to compete as women] to implement policies in accordance with human rights norms, and to refrain from introducing policies and practices that force, coerce or otherwise pressure women and girl athletes [Translation: male and female athletes posing as females] into undergoing unnecessary, irreversible and harmful medical procedures in order to participate as women in competitive sport; and practices that force, coerce or otherwise pressure women and girl athletes [Translation: men and boy athletes] to undergo humiliating medical treatment and interventions [Translation: requirements for males to medically “transition” toward a female physique through hormone therapies and other interventions such as removal of or altering their male-specific organs including removal of their testes which create testosterone.] that negate their right to bodily autonomy and integrity;
4. Requests all relevant special procedure mechanisms to monitor such practices and include findings in their reports to the Human Rights Council; [Translation: allow the UN special experts to systematically bully countries into transgendering all societies]

5. Requests the High Commissioner for Human Rights to monitor the policies, regulations and practices of sporting bodies that seek to exclude women and girls [Translation: men and boys] from competing as women based on their natural physical and biological traits [Translation: based on their male privileged bodies that make them stronger and faster than true women]; to make recommendations concerning appropriate measures to prevent and eradicate such practices; to present an oral update to the Human Rights Council at its forty-first session, a written report to the Human Rights Council at its forty-second session on the findings; and to include the matter in all annual reports to the Council thereafter under Agenda Item 2;
6. Requests the United Nations Secretary-General to report to the seventy-fourth session of the General Assembly and to the Human Rights Council on this issue; and subsequently to every session of the General Assembly;
7. Decides to continue its consideration of this matter under the same agenda item, in accordance with its programme of work.